Bogus Telephone Man Collects $3.50 at Stillman Carriage Company's Office—Stormless Winter Cuts Off Driftwood and Scaup Perquisites of Pleasant View Farmers—Boucker Camp Elects Officers—Judge Williams Lenient with a Down-and-Out Prisoner:

A slick chap, with cold black moustache and fur-collared overcoat, and attractive and pleasing in appearance, played the telephone receiver game at the Stillman Carriage company office Wednesday afternoon. In answer to queries put to the clerk, he learned that the proprietor, George L. Stillman, was out of town and would not return for several hours. Then the young sharper told the clerk that he came to adjust the patent receiver of the Bell Telephone company to the office telephone, for which Mr. Stillman had contracted two months ago, and upon which a payment of $1.50 had been made, the balance, $2.00, to be paid upon delivery of the receiver. The clerk, in hope of delaying payment until Mr. Stillman returned, said there was no money in the office and that the receiver man must call again.

The chap became persistent and informed the clerk that he was out from the general office in Boston and must cover a certain route within a specified time, and consequently could not return to Westerly within six months. Therefore the clerk was advised to go and borrow the small amount due, or Mr. Stillman could not receive the appliance for six months and would be without the service he had contracted and in part paid for during that period. While this talk was going on the ear attachment had been placed on the telephone and instruction given the clerk to impart to Mr. Stillman in case he wanted to use the receiver at his home instead of his office telephone.

The clerk was won over by the guileful chap and the alleged balance due, $3.50, was paid. The chap had no blank receipts with him, so he acknowledged payment on a slip of paper furnished him, signing "A. B. T. Co., by Harding." Of course, it was a fraud. Mr. Stillman never received for his service, which is of no value to him, and never paid a cent in advance. In order to trap the fellow and prevent him from playing the same elsewhere, Mr. Stillman notified police headquarters at Norwich, New London and Westerly. So far as is known, Mr. Stillman is the only one victimized in this section.

An enterprising tobacco firm some time ago sent out dummy tobacco packages, representing the real thing, with the dummy substituted for tobacco, and demanded to be used for window display. These dummies had done service at Nash's and were placed in a box and thrown into the waste paper can. The dummy was found by a Washington Trust building. An Italian scavenger was hauling over the receptacle and came across the box containing the dummy. He examined the dummy, which was a dummy, and perhaps congratulating himself upon his find when Chief Branfield happened along.

REPORTS OF LABOR AGENTS

SUPPRESSED BY SECRETARY

Because of Revelations Concerning Private Lives of Some People.

Washington, Jan. 19.—That Secretary Nagel of the department of commerce and labor has suppressed much of the reports of agents of the labor bureau because of their revelations concerning the private lives of people in North Carolina and other southern states was asserted in the senate today by Senator Overman.

He stated that some of the reports were so revolting in character that, if printed, the law prohibiting the circulation of obscene literature would prohibit their transmission through the mails.

The statement followed an inquiry by Senator Beveridge as to the publication of the results of investigations into the employment of women and children made a few years ago by the bureau of labor.

It was at this juncture that Mr. Overman made his statement concerning the course of Secretary Nagel. He heard of the vile character of some of these reports," he said, "and went to Mr. Nagel about them. He told me that the revelations were such that he had felt called upon to suppress them. It would seem that some of the agents going out to investigate the conditions of the private affairs of the people when the law authorized an inquiry only into the cost of $300,000.
